GASOLINE CAUSED AN EXPLOSION.

Leaking Lamp Creates Havoc at St. Clement's Rectory.

OCCUPANTS BARELY ESCAPE.

The Rev. J. B. Alten, His Father and His Housekeeper Badly Burned and Contents of Rectory Study Entirely Destroyed —Loss Amounts to $900, Covered by Insurance.

Navarre, March 31.—The Rev. J. B. Alten, of St. Clement's Catholic church, his father, Joseph Alten, who lives with him, and his housekeeper, Miss Elizabeth Dusenbaum, were seriously burned and the contents of the study at St. Clement's rectory entirely destroyed as the result of an explosion caused by a leaking gasoline lamp which occurred at 5 o'clock Thursday evening. The housekeeper was about to fill the lamp from a quart bottle of gasoline. Father Alten started to assist her and to investigate the cause of a small leak which was allowing the gasoline left in the lamp to run to the floor. Suddenly the escaping gasoline was ignited from the fire in a stove a few feet distant and a violent explosion occurred which scattered the remaining contents of the lamp and bottle over the occupants of the room and set everything in a blaze.

Miss Dusenbaum, with great presence of mind, ran into the hall for a bucket of water with which she partly extinguished the flames. Father Alten assisted his father from the room and then returned with more water. In the meantime neighbors had heard the explosion and seen the flames and ran to give assistance. The blaze was extinguished before the fire department arrived.

Miss Dusenbaum sustained severe burns on her hands and part of her hair was burned off. Father Alten and his father were also severely burned. The contents of the room, including many valuable books and papers, was destroyed, the loss amounting to about $900, which is covered by insurance.

NEARBY TOWNS.

CANAL FULTON.

Canal Fulton, March 31.—George Moffit and family, who have resided in Cleveland for several years, have returned to their former home in Canal Fulton, where their many friends bid them welcome.

Mrs. Ross Lepley and son Charles, of Doylestown, are visitors at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mathie, west of town.

Miss Margaret Wallace, of Cleveland, is a pleasant visitor at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easly.

J. J. Wise and Mrs. Wise, of Massillon, were visitors in Canal Fulton Monday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Daily.

The following Fultonians attended the funeral of the Rev. H. V. Kaempker in Massillon Monday: The Rev. N. A. Hassel, the Misses R. A. Leaver, Sarah Cadden, Eva Stitz, Louise Blank, Bertha Blank, Mrs. William Labbe, Mrs. A. Steiner, Arthur Blank and Mr. and Mrs. John Blank, sr.

On last Thursday Mrs. Thomas Krear entertained a number of ladies at an old-fashioned all day quilting party. There were no absentees—all were there, and they did have a time. The dinner was not, perhaps, the greatest feature, but it was elegant and served with good taste, and we do not hear that any of them missed it.

The mothers' meeting in the high school hall, last Friday afternoon, was the most succesful meeting held thus far. The attendance was large, and some eighteen new names were added to the club. Mrs. Streibenger, of Cleveland, state president of the Congress of Women, was present and gave an interesting and very practical address along the line of the home training of children, and the helpfulness that can be given by the parent to the teacher in the work of the school.

ORRVILLE.

Orrville, March 31.—Miss Dora McIntyre, who is attending the Oberlin conservatory of music, has arrived home to spend her spring vacation and will sing a solo in the M. E. church on Sunday, both morning and evening.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company purchased the National House from Ad. Houser on the 19th of March for $5,000 cash. We have deferred the publication of the deal at the request of those interested.

E. O. and Howard Mowrer purchased the building formerly known as the office of the late Dr. Moncrief from S. M. Brenneman and will start up a plumbing establishment in the near future.

The school entertainment on Tuesday evening was well attended. All standing space in the hall was occupied and a number of persons were unable to obtain admission. The performance was fine and the scholars did exceedingly well.

J. O. Searight, of Fredericksburg, who spent the most of the winter at home on account of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. Howard Walters, left for Kansas Tuesday evening to resume his avocation on the road.

John Monahan, an engineer on the C. A. & C. railroad, is telling a good joke on himself, but he never dreamed that it would get into print. He was gathering some water cress and laid down on the bank of the run to reach down into the water to get the herb. All of a sudden the bank gave way and Mr. Monahan pitched headlong into the stream. When he recovered his equilibrium he absquatulated as fast as he could run to a retreat where he could dry his clothing.

BEACH CITY.

Beach City, April 1.—Plowing has commenced but no oats sown yet.

The horse sale of O. A. Shetler last Monday was fairly well attended.

Country schools are closing the winter term.

Mrs. Camilla Sheline is building an addition to her house, lately occupied by George Slayman. Peter Harris, of Dundee, is doing the carpenter work.

Many farm hands are commencing their summer's work April 3, at from $20 to $25 per month for six to eight months.

Scholars and teacher of Oak Ridge school expect to hold an entertainment at that school house in a few weeks.

KEEPING UP THE FIGHT.

Ministers Still Protest Against Rockefeller's Gift.

Boston, April 1.—Although John D. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000 to the American board of foreign missions of the Congregational church virtually has been accepted by the board's prudential committee, a large number of Congregational clergymen, representing the ministers and laymen of Boston and vicinity, who oppose the acceptance of the gift, met in Boston this afternoon and decided to continue the protest.

It was agreed by the Protestants that a wide expression of opinion on the question was desirable, and a committee was appointed to submit the facts in the matter to the Congregational ministers of the country. The prudential committee will not take final action on the acceptance of Mr. Rockefeller's gift for two weeks.

The following statement regarding the proceedings was issued last night by the Rev. Herbert W. Gleason, secretary of the Protestants' committee:

"The members of the committee considered the reply of the prudential committee to the protest, and were a unit in the conviction that this reply raises a still more fundamental and serious issue—namely, that the prudential committee disclaims all moral responsibility for discrimination as to the sources from which it receives money for christian work. For this reason it seemed to the committee all the more necessary to maintain the protest."

Dr. Washington Gladden, of Columbus, O., and President William J. Tucker, of Dartmouth college, were in communication with the committee by telegram and letter. President Tucker wrote in part as follows:

"The acceptance by the American board of a gift from this source, under the present conditions, must mean one or two things. Either the board believes that the business methods involved are correct, or that they are a matter of moral indifference so far as the reception of the money is concerned. I do not like to see the American board take either one of these positions."

The committee appointed consists of the Rev. Messrs. Carter, Moxom, Thomas, Davis, Noyes and Evans.

THE BILL VETOED.

Nebraska's Governor Vetoes Anti-Christian Science Bill.

Lincoln, April 1.—Governor Mickey has vetoed the bill for the regulation of the practice of medicine in the state, better known as the anti-Christian Science bill. The governor says in his veto he believes the bill to be in violation of the constitution, which demands religious toleration and freedom. As the bill has but a small majority in either house, it is thought no effort will be made to pass it over the veto.

Eczema, scald head, hives, itchiness of the skin of any sort, instantly relieved, permanently cured. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

GOOD SALE OF BREWERIES BONDS

The Stocks and Bonds Listed on Cleveland Exchange.

FIRST PUBLIC BUYING FRIDAY.

The Securities Have Also Been Listed at Columbus—Pooling Arrangement to Last Sixty Days Has Been Dissolved—Stock on the Rise—$45,000 Sold Friday.

The stocks and bonds of the Stark-Tuscarawas Breweries' Company have been listed on the floor of the Cleveland stock exchange and were traded in for the first time by the buying public Friday in the Cleveland market. Heretofore since March 21, the time the stocks and bonds were open to the public, all selling has been conducted outside the Cleveland exchange or on the curb, as the sales are known in financial circles. This was due to a pooling arrangement which was to last sixty days.

This pooling arrangement was dissolved Thursday and notice to that effect sent to the underwriters of the securities. The announcement came as a surprise to a large extent inasmuch as it was thought that the agreement made between the interested parties to keep the stocks and bonds from the listed market for sixty days would be adhered to. The change was made, however, because there has become a demand for the securities and to withhold the securities from the listed market might endanger the sale of blocks of several thousand. The bonds are now finding a ready market in both the Cleveland and Columbus markets.

Friday was the first day that actual trading in the securities took place on the Cleveland stock exchange and the bonds were bought freely. The sales started at 86 and closed a fraction higher. In all $45,000 was sold during the day. The securities have been so eagerly taken up that there is some fear in the markets that investors are buying with a view of withdrawing the bonds from the market. If that is the case, a few sales like that of Friday will take a good part of the securities from the open bidding.

Both the stocks and bonds of the company were listed in Cleveland and Columbus. The bond issue amounts to $1,500,000 of 6 per cent twenty-five year bonds. The capital consists of $750,000 of 6 per cent preferred and $750,000 of common stock. Of each there has been issued $627,000.

The listing of the stock on the Cleveland exchange was to have been expected as it was in that city that the financial deal was begun and carried to completion. Since the formation of the company the financial interests in Cleveland have shown great favor for the securities. The listing of the stocks in Columbus gives that center a taste of outside securities. The appetite, which was created by the Hoster-Columbus Breweries' Company is rapacious and it is said that Columbus has not yet been satisfied with its apportionment of either the Stark-Tuscarawas or the Huebner-Toledo underwriting. This latter deal was completed Thursday and its stocks will be ready for the market in the near future.

ANOTHER BRIDGE SUIT.

Massillon Company Sued for Seventeen Thousand Dollars.

Canton, April 1 — The Massillon Bridge Company has been sued in common pleas court by the State of Ohio on relation of Charles U. Shryock, a taxpayer, for and on behalf of Muskingum county and the taxpayers thereof, for $17,282 42. The petition avers that this sum was paid the bridge company out of the funds of the county for bridge work and material furnished under contracts alleged to have been entered into illegally. Four different causes of action were named in the petition. The relator asks for judgment for the amount for the benefit of the county. Attorneys E. E. Powers and F. S. Monnett are named in the petition as counsel for the relator.

IN GOOD CONDITION.

Report of Bureau of Building and Loan Associations.

Columbus, April 1.—The annual report of the state bureau of Building and Loan Associations, filed with the governor, speaks hopefully of the condition of these concerns. There is a healthy increase in the assets, the reports to the department are better and contain fewer errors than formerly, a larger degree of conservatism marks the management of the concerns, with improved business methods, weak associations have been combined, making organizations of more use to their patrons, the associations have ceased to loan on property at a distance from the city of their location, and on the whole the situation is very encouraging.

Every county in the state has such associations, excepting only Hancock, Carroll, Henry, Medina, Meigs, Ottawa and Paulding.

This fact clearly demonstrates that the building and loan idea has become a fixture in Ohio, is permeating every important community and has become a dominant factor in the monetary affairs and financial circles of the state. Much additional evidence to support this conclusion could be readily furnished, but when it is noted that in the past twelve years the gross assets of these institutions have increased from $50,000,000 in 1892 to $102,578,670.59 in 1904, nothing more in support of this view needs to be said.

The cash on hand is $840,846.79 less than last year. The loans on mortgage security have increased $4,607,097.60. There is a slight increase in the amount loaned on stock and passbook security, amounting to $8,397.72 and an encouragingly large decrease in amount loaned on other security in the sum of $2,053,618.45. The item of furniture and fixtures has been reduced as an asset in the sum of $3,006.36. The real estate holdings have also been reduced in the sum of $374,373.69. Real estate sold on contract has been reduced $36,323.89, with an increase in real estate assets representing an amount invested in office buildings in the sum of $56,249.55. There was a less amount paid for insurance and taxes for borrowers in the sum amounting to $13,712.75, and at the same time the total assets of the associations of the state have increased over last year in the sum of $1,357,228.33.

QUAIL FROM ALABAMA.

State Trying to Repair Losses of Recent Cold Winters.

Columbus, April 1.—The state is doing what it can to make good the loss suffered by reason of the cold winters that have killed practically all of the Ohio quail. Game Warden Porterfield has just liberated one hundred and thirty-five Alabama quail in various sections of the state and they will be protected and allowed to breed in the hope of stocking the state in a measure with this hardy little game bird. The Alabama quail is not quite as large as the Ohio bird and is a little lighter in color. The little strangers have generally located where let go and they will be watched with interest.

This has been a successful experiment, much more so than former attempts to plant quail. Heretofore they were simply let out of boxes and they flew away and got separated. This time the wire cages were put out in the woods and allowed to remain several days. Then the box was opened at night. In the morning the quail would come out naturally and generally find a place to start housekeeping. More quail will be brought in next year.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Officials are Cleaning Up the Ohio Penitentiary.

Columbus, April 1.—"House cleaning" has begun at the penitentiary and officers of that institution are waging war in earnest on tubercular germs. On Warden Gould's order and following the suggestions of both the state board of health and Dr. Adolph Knopf, expert on sanitation, who recently inspected the prison, the institution will be as thoroughly cleaned and made as sanitary as possible in the effort to check the rapid spread of tuberculosis among the convicts.

The streets between the shops in the institution are now being cleared of all rubbish and by the first of next week the work of cleaning up the shops will beign. Systematically the entire institution will be gone over and the recommendations of the health board complied with as nearly as possible.

At the April meeting of the board of managers the question of installing dust consumers in the shops will be taken up. The officials have no funds now to use for this purpose, and it may be necessary to appeal to the state emergency board. Either this will be done or the contractors will be required to install them in order to renew their contracts for convict labor.

The managers, it is expected, will order all cells painted, instead of whitewashed, as now.

DR. EYMAN NOT TO BE TRANSFERRED

Nothing Official Known of Rumors from Columbus.

HIS CHOICE IS AT MASSILLON.

Governor Herrick Will Appoint a Successor to the Late Dr. G. A. Doren, But the Governor is Now in Texas and Nothing Will be Done for Several Days.

Superintendent H. C. Eyman returned from Mansfield to his duties at the state hospital Saturday morning after attending a meeting of the North Central Ohio Medical Association, held at the state reformatory building Friday. Dr. Eyman read a paper treating of insanity.

When asked about the rumor that he had been asked to leave the superintendency of the Massillon state hospital to accept the position as superintendent of the state hospital for feeble minded at Columbus, as successor to the late Dr. G. A. Doren, Dr. Eyman said that he knew nothing about the matter. He had seen articles in the Columbus papers that his name had been mentioned as a successor to Dr. Doren but nothing of an official nature had ever been received by him pertaining to the matter.

The dispatch sent out from Columbus saying that Dr. Eyman's name had been suggested for the position at Columbus was based upon a talk in the auditor of state's office during which Dr. Eyman told a newspaper representative that being a state officer it was necessary to obey the commands of the governor and if appointed to the Columbus position it would be incumbent upon him to accept or leave the employ of the state. Dr. Eyman further stated in the talk that if all the positions as superintendent of state institutions in Ohio were offered him, with the privilege of his choice, he would take the position as superintendent of the Massillon hospital. That was all that was said in the interview and that was said while Dr. Eyman and Auditor Guilbert were discussing financial matters of the Massillon hospital.

The discussion of the past week regarding a successor to the late Dr. G. A. Doren, which has been abundant in Columbus, grows from the fact that but few men in the state are prepared to take up the work left by him. The person appointed his successor must be a resident of the state, inasmuch as the appointee will become a state officer as soon as named for the position. Dr. Doren was one of the most successful superintendents in the country in his line and his successor will have no easy position.

Governor Herrick is in Galveston and will not be in Columbus for a few days and nothing will be done in the matter until he returns. Governor Herrick has sole power to make the appointments to state institutions and it is intimated that he will give the question much serious thought before naming the new superintendent.

While on a trip of a few days to Gallipolis and other places, Dr. Eyman visited the state hospital at Athens, where he began his professional work twenty-one years ago. The two prime objects of Dr. Eyman's trip were to take a patient from the Massillon hospital to the Gallipolis institution and to call upon the state auditor. The incidental trip to Athens was made while enroute from Gallipolis to Columbus and the stop at Mansfield on the way home from Columbus.

FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS.

The Weather Bureau Issues Statistics.

The weather bureau has issued its report for the month of March, and includes in it the weather statistics for a period of twenty-six years. It shows also the weather for the month of April for that period.

The mean or normal temperature was 51; the warmest April was in 1896, and the coldest in 1904. The last killing frost recorded in April was April 16, 1897, and the latest on May 17, 1895

The greatest amount of rainfall was 7.08 in 1903; the least was 0.83 in 1899. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any twenty-four consecutive hours was 3.33 inches on April 7 and 8, 1895.

Ordinary household accidents have no terrors when there's a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the medicine chest. Heals burns, cuts, bruises, sprains. Instansly relieved.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Engineer's Arm Crushed by a Rolling Stone.

Pittsburg, April 1.—While running his train at a speed of thirty miles an hour yesterday near Coulterville, Engineer T. W. Welsch, of Glenwood, was struck on the arm by a rock, which so crushed the member that it had to be amputated at the McKeesport hospital. The engine was without a master until the fireman brought it to a stop within a short distance from a work train on the same track. Welsch's arm was crushed by a large boulder which, loosened by the jarring of the train, rolled down the steep hillside. His arm was on the window ledge of the cab where the stone struck. His head was also gashed.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS.

Former Editor of the Craftsman Placed Under Arrest.

REMOVED MORTGAGED GOODS.

Damage Suit of William E. Clark Against Wheeling & Lake Erie Company Continued to Next Term of Common Pleas Court, Owing to Death of Juror.

Canton, April 1.—Thomas Snyder, who edited a labor journal in Canton, called the Craftsman, some months ago, was placed under arrest by Captain Little, constable from Justice Barrick's court, in Akron, Saturday morning, but he was not brought to the city. Carrie Perry swore out an affidavit charging him with removing a number of books from the county which had been secured by a chattel mortgage for $190. Attorney Sterling appeared for him and arranged to have a hearing of the case April 11. Part of the books, it is understood, are in the hands of Sheriff McKinney, but the sheriff claims that he did not get all that his list called for. Snyder is now operating a laundry in Barberton.

The suit of William E. Clark against the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad Company for $30,000 damages for personal injuries sustained while in the employ of the company as an engineer, will go over to the next term of common pleas court. The counsel for the defendant company declined to proceed with the case with only eleven jurors, insisting that the panel should be complete. The case was on trial practically seven days when interrupted by the death of Juror Henry Stockman. The fact that the present term of court is almost to a close prevents the case from being started again this term.

Deputy Sheriff Crubaugh sold a farm of one hundred and sixty acres in Lawrence township to Buchtel college, of Akron, at sheriff's sale Saturday morning. The farm, which is located about one mile north of North Lawrence on the Lawrence and Canal Fulton road, brought $5,667. It was appraised at $8,500. The college had a mortgage on the farm and it was bid in by C. R. Olen, a representative of the college.

Dora Walters, of East Greenville, has entered suit in common pleas court against John Walters for alimony. Plaintiff, in her petition, says that she was married to the defendant December 19, 1904, and that they have one child, Ralph, aged 8 weeks. Plaintiff charges abandonment and gross neglect of duty as grounds for alimony. Attorney R. H. Day filed the petition.

RUSSIA GRANTS CONCESSIONS.

Will Agree to Waive All Rights in Manchuria and Korea.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—Peace reports on the Bourse are that Russia will cede the southern portion of the island of Sakhalin, now used as a Russian convict settlement, to Japan, and will agree to leave Manchuria and Korea permanently outside of Russian influence. Russia will also agree that the eastern Chinese railroad be given to China or an international syndicate.

BIG GAME PLENTIFUL.

President's Guide Has Bee Over Hunting Grounds.

Glenwood Springs, Col., April 1.—Jake Borah, who, with John Golf, will guide the Roosevelt party on its hunting trip, reports big game plentiful and somewhat fiercer than usual. Borah has just returned from a trip in the wilds of western Colorado to pick out the best hunting ground. The rangers report bears scarce, but mountain lions, lynx, wildcat and other games have wintered well.

MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1905

The editor of the Gibson County (Tenn). News announces the death of his paper in the following touching lines: "With this issue the Gibson County News will be numbered with the things that were; it will cease to exist; it will be no more forever. It does not die in the noonday of existence, nor in hoary age, but in life's green spring, being only about nine months of age."

The reason for the delay in beginning the second trial of Nan Patterson, for which District Attorney Jerome, of New York, has been severely criticised, is now explained by the arrest in Cincinnati of Morgan Smith and his wife, who are considered the most important witnesses for the state. The Smiths disappeared before the first trial and the district attorney has been searching for them ever since. If they knew nothing likely to inculpate the accused woman it was strange that they should have taken refuge across the Canadian border. It remains to be seen whether they can be forced to tell a straight story on the witness stand.

Walter Wellman in his correspondence to the Chicago Record Herald, notes the news which comes through the cable dispatches from St. Petersburg that the czar has decided not to enter on peace negotiations till after Admiral Rojestvensky shall have had a chance to smash Togo's fleet, and continues: That this gambler's throw sort of desperation was under consideration by the czar and his counselors was made known a few days ago in these dispatches, on excellent authority, and no one is surprised at the tidings from the Russian capital to the effect that it has been finally determined upon as a policy. At the same time it is well to bear in mind that little that is trustworthy comes out of St. Petersburg these days as to the intentions of the government. This is not due to any lack of care or good faith on the part of the senders of the dispatches, but is to be ascribed wholly to the fact that the weak and wavering czar does not know his own mind from one day to the next. What he decides upon on a Monday may be repudiated on Tuesday and recurred to with favor on Wednesday.

EASTER SUNDAY.

With annual regularity there arises confusion respecting the date upon which Easter Sunday will fall, and the manner in which that date is fixed. The festival is movable, but the day upon which it takes place is determined by a specified rule. Easter Sunday may fall as early as the 25th of March, or as late as the 25th of April. This year it will fall upon the 23d day of April, a somewhat unusually late date.

If by application of the rule, Easter were found to fall upon the 26th of April, the actual date of the celebration would be anticipated one week and the festival would be celebrated upon the 18th of April, writes the Columbus Press-Post in this connection.

For reasons arising from differences between true and solar time, and between the exact date of the calendar and the true moon, somewhat complicated calculations are required to determine the precise date of Easter Sunday. Speaking in a general way, Easter, according to the Century dictionary, is "the Sunday which follows that fourteenth day of the calendar moon which falls upon, or next after the 21st of March. This is true both of the old and new style—and the rule has been used, though not universally, from a very early day."

It may be worth while, in this connection, again to explain that Easter is a festival in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. It corresponds to the passover of the Jews, which in the King James version, or the commonly used translation of the Bible, is called once by the name of "Easter." The festival is observed by the Roman Catholic, Greek, Episcopal and Lutheran churches, and by many among the non-liturgical churches which do not generally regard the church year.

Thistles.

In the fourteenth century thistles were used as food for cattle, and they were considered as a crop. In the old priory of Lindisfarne there is a note in the archives of 1344-45 of thick leather gloves required for the harvesters of the thistle crop. It is curious that, though the thistle is the emblem of Scotland, the Scot never seems able to say which kind of thistle is the true national emblem. It is said that a thistle which resembles Carduus marianus was figured on the old coinage of the day of James V., who was first to put thistles on the Scotch money. The horn spoons sold in Edinburgh sometimes have little silver thistles on the end of the handles.

To Reclaim Suspended Members. Pythian Notes and Gossip.

Grand Chancellor Bartram of Minnesota has practically inaugurated a movement that will mean much in the reclaiming and retention of members. He has requested each Minnesota lodge to furnish him with a list of their nonresident and suspended members, and upon receipt of this information, especially as regards the nonresident members, he sends a letter to the lodge in the town where such member resides suggesting that he be looked up and introduced into their circles. Similar action is taken where members have moved away from their lodge and have since become suspended.

The Pythian grand lodge of Illinois appropriated $1,000 to the uniform rank in that state, and the money was prorated among those who attended the supreme lodge encampment at Louisville, Ky., according to the number of men in line during the parade.

At the recent session of the grand lodge of West Virginia a committee of five was appointed to look into the advisability of establishing a Pythian home for the state.

At the recent convention of the grand lodge of Indiana the vote of that body was against the amendment to reduce the age for application for membership to eighteen years.

A lot has been purchased in Portland, Ore., on which members of the order in that city will erect a fine Pythian temple.

ODD FELLOWS.

To Remember the Sick—From Various Jurisdictions.

A good thing for a lodge to have is a blackboard, to be hung up either in the lodge room or the anteroom, upon which are recorded the names of all the brethren who are sick, their street address and also the nature of their illness, says the Western Odd Fellow. This would be a constant reminder of their duty to visit the sick, and by this plan there would be no excuse for not knowing where they live.

The Odd Fellows of Kansas City, Kan., are to build a $80,000 temple.

The I. O. O. F. membership in Oklahoma is greater than that of any other fraternal order in the territory, numbering 16,000.

The smallest Odd Fellow in the world is said to be Rufus Milroy Lowe of Zionsville, Ind. Mr. Lowe is only 3 feet 11 inches in height, weighs 88 pounds and wears a 7¼ hat.

The Odd Fellows' home at Lockport, N. Y., is supported by 195 lodges and is valued at $36,000.

The Rebekahs of Kansas have between $5,000 and $6,000 in their home fund, besides the small fruit farm given them by the grand lodge, near Hutchinson.

Northern Light lodge of Minneapolis was organized eighteen years ago and from a small beginning has grown to be the biggest subordinate lodge in Minnesota, having 570 members.

RED MEN

The growth of Redmanship throughout the United States has been phenomenal. From a membership of 10,000 in 1861 it has gradually expanded until today it stands third among American fraternities, with a membership near to the half million mark. The order has tribes, or lodges, in nearly every state and territory in the country.—Insignia.

The tribes of Sacramento, Cal., recently adopted a class of 100 palefaces.

Texas Red Men had 6,500 members at last report, a net gain of 1,471 during the year.

The order has several flourishing tribes in Hawaii and a council of the Degree of Pocahontas.

There is nothing selfish in the principles of Redmanship; therefore he who belongs to the order for selfish motives is not a good Red Man.—Sagamore.

Woodmen of the World.

Violet circle, Women of Woodcraft, of Leadville, Colo., has over 1,000 members.

Governor Mead of Washington was recently initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft.

Reports being received at headquarters show the past year has been a most prosperous one for the Woodmen of the World. Large gains in membership have been made.

Sons of America.

According to the reports received, the past year has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the organization.

In Pennsylvania there are now 75,000 members of the order and 691 camps.

FRATERNAL MISCELLANY

The Ladies of the Golden Eagle has 140 temples in Pennsylvania, with over 10,000 members.

The Royal League had a prosperous year in 1904. This society was organized in 1883.

Fraternal orders have paid more than a million dollars weekly into distressed homes, which becomes a benefit to the entire people.

In speaking of the growth of fraternal orders recently a Chicago newspaper says that every fifth man with whom you shake hands in the United States and in British Columbia is a member of a secret organization, counting out his possible college fraternity.

MASONIC

The Scottish Rite bodies of Little Rock, Ark., have made a remarkable record in connection with the building of their cathedral, having cleared up in about two years a bonded indebtedness of nearly $40,000 and all other indebtedness incurred in the equipment and furnishing of their magnificent structure and having still a surplus in the hands of the treasurer.—American Tyler.

Baalis Sanford was recently installed grand master of the grand lodge of Massachusetts for his third term in that office.

In Delaware last year 156 candidates were initiated, and 90 applicants were rejected.

The Masonic Standard says that harmony in the lodge is more important than anything else. There can be no real success where the brethren are divided.

Masonic buildings were destroyed by fire recently in Fremont, Neb.; Madison, Fla., and Leitchfield, Ky.

The grand lodge of Georgia enacted a measure which provides that no commissioner of dispensary or any one in any way connected with this branch of the liquor traffic is eligible to membership in the Masonic fraternity in that state.

Door to Virtue lodge of Westminster, Md., celebrated recently its ninety-third anniversary.

The directors of the new Masonic temple in Englewood, Ill., have forbidden smoking in either of the two lodge rooms in the building, no matter whether work is in progress or not.

Preston lodge of Jonesville, Va., expects to receive from congress $4,000 as reimbursement for the burning of its hall by Federal soldiers in 1861.

Five hundred dollars was recently appropriated by Za-Ga-Zig temple, N. M. S., of Des Moines, Ia., to furnish a room in the Methodist hospital in that city.

K. AND L. OF HONOR.

The Grand Protector of Ohio—Notes of the Order.

Jennie Woesner, the grand protector of Ohio, has so won the confidence and esteem of the members of the order in the Buckeye State that she has thrice been elected to the high position she now holds. She is a thorough lodge woman and has awakened a great deal of enthusiasm and interest in the jurisdiction since her election. At present the Knights and Ladies of Honor in Ohio has a membership of over 4,000 in good standing. It is the ambition of the officers to increase this to 6,000 by the time the grand lodge meets this year, and the good work being done throughout the state indicates that this mark will be reached.

The order has collected and paid out over $22,000,000 to beneficiaries of deceased members since organization.

Elgin lodge, Elgin, Ill., recently initiated a class of twenty-five candidates.

During the year 1904 there was a net gain in membership of 5,665.

The Missouri jurisdiction now has 9,000 members, a net gain of 799 for the past year.

A class of forty candidates was initiated by the Knights and Ladies of Honor in Cleburne, Tex., recently.

United Workmen

The grand lodge of Manitoba and Northwest Territories is taking steps to become incorporated under the Manitoba charitable associations act, the effect of which will be to practically sever its relations with the supreme lodge.

The Michigan Degree of Honor has $13,801.91 in its reserve fund. Six assessments were called for 1904. This jurisdiction is working on the classified plan.

A lodge cannot be wide awake where the faithful quorum is left to do the business. Get the members out and keep them coming every meeting night.

Do not forget the real worth to yourself and the actual value to your family of your A. O. U. W. certificate, says the Guardian. Promptly pay your assessments and dues.

The grand recorder of Kansas recently reported a membership in his jurisdiction of 36,740.

Ladies of the Maccabees.

Reports being received show that in 1904 the order made large gains in membership.

In Cincinnati recently a class of 100 candidates was initiated. Several of the supreme officers were present.

EVEN HANDED JUSTICE.

The Broad Foundation In Child Training and Homemaking.

I sometimes think that not love, but justice, should be the cornerstone on which home government should build its fair edifice. Justice at the very foundation would do away with heartaches and grievances that are often ignored and resented, would prove more potential in the formation of character than any other possible quality in parental administration.

It is precisely because justice is wounded in the house of its friends that the sweetness of the home is often dashed with bitterness and that children tenderly loved and cherished are hurt and cramped in their proper development by that commonest of fetters, misunderstanding.

Passing on to practical, everyday routine, one often sees a scene like this: Johnny is busy with his studies, his home work, that must be done before he can go out to play. By pegging away hard at the sums and the boundaries he can secure a half hour's ball before supper. Absorbed in his occupation, so important to him, he hears with dismay the command to leave it and amuse his little sister. Few mothers, however, hesitate to interrupt the pursuits of any growing boy or girl if by chance the claims of a younger child get in the way.

The opposite side in this case will be presented by some one whose urgent plea will be that by early bearing the yoke we learn compassion for weakness and unselfish sympathy. There is a grain of truth here, but it is partial truth.

Even handed justice in the home—the apportioning to the child of every age and stage of progress its rights as an individual, the exercise of care that each in his or her own sphere is protected against wrong from without—tends to making full minded, genuine and lovable character.

It is wise to assign to the older children in the household certain responsibilities in the guardianship of the younger ones. But Mary's walks and talks should not always be spoiled for her because Hetty, half her age, insists on joining her, and Ralph's tools and collections and books should never be at the mercy of a small vandal named Hugh, who, happening to be a little brother, is allowed to meddle with property that is not his.

Only on a broad foundation of justice can we build in child training and homemaking.—Margaret E. Sangster in Good Housekeeping.

A Chicken Novelty.

A new method of cooking poultry has just found its way north, says one of the household magazines. A traveler in the far south praises a dish he had there. A chicken, for in the south they never say hens or poultry or fowls, is dressed and filled with a dough of chestnut meal. The legs are taken off at the second joint, and the wings shortened. It is then put inside a beef bladder which has been carefully prepared. The opening of this is tightly closed, and it is then cooked in a kettle of water, the fowl simmering in its own juices.

One of the Simplest of Sponge Cakes.

Hot water sponge cake is one of the best of the cheaper sponge cakes. Beat the yolks of three eggs and a cup of sugar until very light, add a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a fourth of a cupful of hot water, and continue to beat, then gently fold in the stiffly beaten whites and a cupful of flour. The texture of sponge cake is too delicate to stand heavy icing, and for this reason plain boiled icing is preferred for it.

Underslips For Transparent Fabric.

The present fashion of transparent or semitransparent material for evening dresses demands silk slips for wearing beneath the dresses. The bodice slip is cut to insure a perfect fit round the decolletage, and with pointed waist its lines are such as to give a smart appearance to the outer bodice. A good model for the skirt, here shown, fits closely round the waist and hips and with just sufficient flow at the hem to give a graceful effect in walking or dancing.

Cabbage Cooked Without Odor.

According to cooking school lore, cabbage should be cooked uncovered. The odor is quickly diffused by currents of air and is not noticeable. When cooked with the cover on the odor becomes concentrated and escapes with full force to every part of the house as soon as the cover is raised.

Cross Children Made Happy.

Cross children can often be transformed into the most amiable of little beings by a drink of water, a bite of something to eat, ten minutes' rest and a good "bear's hug" from mother, says Mrs. Theodore W. Birney of the National Congress of Mothers.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A LITTLE SHORT OF CASH.

Vanderbilt Had but $1.05 when Taken to Police Court.

New York, April 1.—After setting a terrific pace for a bicycle policeman for a mile Friday afternoon, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was arrested, charged with exceeding the speed limit, and released under $200 bail for examination.

The young man was driving a fifty horsepower racing car. With him were four friends. Bicycle Policeman Hanlon, when the machine shot by in a cloud of dust, jumped on his wheel and gave chase. He says the persons in the auto car threw kisses at him and called out to him to keep his mouth closed as there were germs in the dust. A mud hole brought the race to an end, and Vanderbilt was taken to the station house. Mr. Vanderbilt had only $1.05 with him, so Mason Morris deposited $200 in cash to insure his friend's appearance.

REPLY FROM ROGERS

Strictures on Standard Oil Bring Answer from Company's President.

REBATES ONCE WERE LAWFUL

Then Attempts to Show That Standard Never Received Any, Except Once, When Amount Was Immediately Repaid—Speaks in Sarcastic Vein.

New York, April 1.—H. H. Rogers, vice president and director of the Standard Oil company, made a statement as to the conduct of the Standard Oil company, which was evidently prompted by the criticism of the prudential committee of the American board of foreign missions for accepting a gift of $100,000 from John D Rockefeller. Mr. Rogers said:

H. H. ROGERS.

"Ministers say queer things. Dr. Washington Gladden says that everybody knows that John D. Rockefeller has obtained his money dishonestly. With as much reason I could say that everybody knows that Dr. Gladden would not trust the Ten Commandments for 10 days with the deacons of his church because they would surely break some of them and bend the rest.

"Slavery in certain sections of the United States was legal until President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation. Rebates on railroads were just as legal until the passage of the interstate commerce commission act. In an exhaustive examination by the industrial commission authorized by congress June 18, 1898, in a review of evidence the commission reported as follows:

Gladden Comes Back at Rogers.

"'It has been charged as a matter of general belief on the part of almost all the opponents of the Standard Oil company that these discriminations in various forms have been continually received, even up to date. On the other hand, these charges have been denied in toto and most emphatically by every representative of the Standard Oil company with reference to all cases excepting one, which they claim was a mistake, the amount of freight due being promptly paid on discovery of the error. The Standard Oil company not merely challenged the opponents to bring forth proof of any case, but produced many letters from leading officials of railroads to show that the company had in no case received any favors or asked for them.'"

Columbus, O., April 1.—Dr. Washington Gladden, moderator of the general council of the Congregational churches of the United States, gave out the following reply last night to the statement of H. H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company:

"Mr. Rogers alleges that the vast sums extorted in rebates by the Standard Oil company from its competitors were legally taken because no law explicitly forbade them. What I said was that the money was 'flagatiously' acquired. To coerce the railroads into an arrangement by which it received a large rebate, not only on its own oil but on all the oil sent by its competitors; to force the railways to rob its competitors for its enrichment was, I submit, a flagitious policy, a shameful policy.

Rebates Violation of Common Law.

"If there was no law at that time by which that particular kind of robbery could be punished, the robbery was no less flagrant and outrageous. It was by this means that this enormous power was created. I am not a lawyer, but I should think it altogether possible that even under the common law such an iniquity as this might have been punished. Railways, which are chartered under public law, must be required to render to all the people an equal service. If such use of them as was made by the Standard Oil company could not be punished our legal machinery would be very defective.

"The denial that rebates have been extorted since the interstate commerce law was passed is not credible. I know from statements made to myself by parties implicated that such rebates have been exacted by other corporations. I doubt if the Standard Oil company is more virtuous than the rest. But it is true that it has now gained a power in the classification and control of rates which make it unnecessary to use the system of rebates.

"Some of the apologists of the trust are now asserting that the money now under discussion has been legally acquired. 'Legally,' says a New York newspaper, 'there is no question that the money is Mr. Rockefeller's to give.' If there is no such question why is the United States government now investigating the operation of the Standard Oil company? It is not the morals of that company into which the government is looking; it is the legality of its practices. Some of us think that if legality is the only test we have to apply to such transactions it might be as well to wait and see whether they are found to be within the law."

Dr. Gladden states that an organization is being formed to fight the acceptance of Rockefeller's gift.

PEACE VISIONS FADING.

Russian Pride Stands in Way of Cessation of the War.

Paris, April 1.—Whatever hopefulness the peace situation may have had some days ago the situation has now completely changed and there is every prospect that the war will drag on again.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—A report current here late last night that Japan has declined to negotiate for peace upon Russia's basis cannot be traced to any responsible source.

An assemblage of workmen in the Petersburg quarter last night demanding the liberation of imprisoned strike leaders nearly led to a riot. Mounted police and troops surrounded the malcontents, who, seeing that resistance was hopeless, sullenly dispersed, a few being injured in the scuffle.

The news from the front indicates that Field Marshal Oyama has begun a genuine advance of his main army, with wings far extended. Heavy reconnoissances are being made against the Russian center with the object of developing the Russian position.

Five hundred peasants of the district of Vardzia in the Caucasus have surrounded the Greek monastery at Vardzia and demand that it be handed over to them with the title deeds.

The Bourse Gazette prints a report that a number of Japanese prisoners at Medved have killed themselves by hari-kari and with arsenic. Gossip in some circles in St. Petersburg attributes the suicides to ill treatment.

Sevastopo., April 1.—The warehouses of the Russian steamship company are on fire. The conflagration, which is of incendiary origin, has done a great amount of damage.

Warsaw, April 1.—An anonymous threat to dynamite the gendarmerie barracks here led to deplorable scenes. Strong guards that had been placed outside the building at night seized and mercilessly beat every one coming in the neighborhood of the barracks, compelling them to go in another direction.

Port Louis, Island of Mauritius, April 1.—A report is current here that the colliers accompanying the Russian squadron commanded by Admiral Rojestvensky were ordered to go to Hongkong by way of Batavia, Island of Java.

KAISER'S VISIT SHORT.

Rumor of Anarchist Plot Curtails Gorgeous Reception.

Tangier April 1.—Emperor William of Germany paid a flying visit to Tangier, remaining barely two hours on shore. The elaborate program for his reception and entertainment was much changed, the emperor confining himself to a visit to the German legation, where he received deputations of Germans in Morocco. The changed plans caused much comment and disappointment.

The emperor had expected to land about 8 o'clock but this was delayed three hours. Meanwhile Count von Tattenbach-Ashold, former German minister to Morocco, returned to the Hamburg before the emperor landed. It was officially explained that the reason for this procedure was the roughness of the sea, but after the departure of the Hamburg it was stated on good authority that Emperor William, having heard that there was a possibility of an anti-French demonstration on the occasion of his visit, desired to avoid such an incident. Another report, which, however, has not received official confirmation, but is generally accepted, states that the German legation was informed that an anarchist plot had been discovered and advised that the emperor be dissuaded from landing. Count von Tattenbach-Ashold visited the German legation and interviewed the Moorish authorities and afterwards notified his majesty that every precaution had been taken, but advised that the program be confined to a visit to the legation.

WANT IMMEDIATE TRIAL.

Beef Trust Hopes Through Connors to See Uncle Sam's Hand.

Chicago, April 1.—Threatened indictments against persons connected with the big meat packing industries have so far failed to materialize. It is said that attorneys for the packers will force the issue in the indictment already returned against T. J. Connors, general superintendent for Armour & Co. As the matter has stood, Connors, who was indicted on a charge of attempting to influence J. Edward Shields, a witness before the jury, will not be given a trial until the July term, when other indictments, if any are returned, will be tried. Last night, however, it was learned that Attorney Urion, general counsel for Armour & Co., is preparing to appear before some United States district judge with a petition demanding an immediate trial for Connors. Mr. Connors is said to be preparing to stand on a constitutional provision which declares that a citizen should have a trial within a reasonable time.

If the petition of Attorney Urion should be granted, it will apparently be necessary to summon a petit jury, recall Shields as the main witness, and present many of the alleged facts in open court which Shields testified to in the grand jury room.

Secretary Hay Due at Naples.

Rome, April 1.—The steamer Cretic, with Secretary and Mrs. Hay on board, is expected to arrive at Naples tomorrow. Mr. Hay has expressed the wish that no notice be taken officially of his arrival.

Thieves Ransack Burrows Home.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 1.—Thieves have ransacked the home in this city of Senator J. C. Burrows, who is in Washington. The loss is not large.

WILL PAY DEPOSITS

President of Defunct Lorain Institution Says Patrons Will Not Suffer.

CASHIER ADMITS HIS DUPLICITY

Was Led Into Speculation by Example of Others—Remains to Face Music Rather Than Run Away—Bank an Old Concern.

Lorain, O., April 1.—At the usual time for opening the doors of the Citizens' Savings bank there were several hundred depositors on hand ready to draw out their money should the opportunity present itself. The crowd was made up for the most part of foreigners. Posted on the door was a notice which read:

"This bank is closed for business. The affairs of the bank have been placed in the hands of T. F. Fancher as assignee."

There was no demonstration on the part of those gathered about the building. While the directors are extremely reticent it is known that the closing of the institution resulted from defalcations by three of its employes and that the sum taken aggregates at least $90,000. The bank was organized in 1878 as the First National. It was the oldest bank in Lorain.

E. F. Kaneen, cashier; E. B. Walker, assistant cashier, and Dana S. Walker, teller of the Citizens' Savings bank, have been arrested charged with embezzlement. The warrants were sworn out before County Prosecutor Stroup and served by the sheriff and two deputies. The men are charged with embezzlement. They are under arrest at their homes for the night but will be taken to the county jail at Elyria in the morning.

All Property Turned Over.

President Honecker of the bank stated that the defaulting employes had agreed to turn everything of value they possessed to the bank. Mr. Honecker declared that he believed the depositors would receive every cent due them. One of the defaulting employes was under bond of $20,000. It is understood that property to the value of probably $10,000 will be turned over by the men responsible for the wrecking of the bank.

Asked if the Chadwick operations were in any way responsible for the failure, President Honecker said:

"You may state that the bank escaped Mrs. Chadwick completely and that the closing of our bank is in no way traceable to anything like the Chadwick affair. Mrs. Chadwick came to see us and I talked with her, but she did not get any of our money."

From an authoritative source it is learned that the exact amount of the shortage in the funds of the bank is $97,000. To offset this the three defaulting employes carried indemnity bonds in favor of the bank aggregating $40,600 and in addition have turned over real estate and other property to the bank to the value of $12,000, leaving the net loss to the institution $45,000.

Imitated Example of Others.

Cleveland, April 1.—A special to the News from Lorain says: Edward Kaneen, who risked and lost money of the Citizens' Savings bank in speculation, admits that he is responsible for the failure of the bank of which he was the cashier.

Kaneen has turned over every cent he possessed, but it will not go far toward making good the shortage. He declares that he had no intention of wrongdoing at the start. He pointed with pride to the fact that he never played cards or gambled in any other way, and says that he never did a dishonest thing until he began using the bank's money.

"But others led me in to it," he said. "I saw other men speculating and thought I could do the same thing and win. When I was first approached on the subject of speculation I told those who spoke to me that I would not engage in speculation. I abhorred the idea of gaming, and I wish to God that I had not done it."

Kaneen said he could easily have run away before the shortage was discovered, but he though it the manly thing to do to remain and face the music. He said if the shortage had only been $20,000 or $30,000 the directors would have made it good without exposing him.

CORPSE ON THE MOUNTAIN.

Arbutus Gatherers from Altoona Make Ghastly Find.

Altoona, Pa., April 1.—Two young men gathering arbutus on Brush mountain, opposite the city, found the body of a man who had died probably two months ago. The body was dressed in a green suit and brown overcoat.

In the pockets was a bottle partly filled with whisky, a bottle of medicine, $1.35 in money, a Cincinnati Enquirer dated Jan. 4, a map of St. Joseph, Mo., a card bearing the name "Iona Merritts," No. 601 South street, St. Joseph; the name John Chase, Saratoga, Wyoming, a ticket from Mathena to Troy and a gold nugget.

Carnegie Offers $50,000.

Des Moines, Ia., April 1.—Officers of Drake university have received an offer from Andrew Carnegie of $50,000 for the erection of a library. The university must raise a like sum.

Monument to "Don Quixote's" Creator.

Havana, April 1.—The provincial council has voted in favor of the erection of a monument to Cervantes, the author of "Don Quixote."

HOLY ROLLERS OUSTED.

Attempt to Heal by Faith and Prayer is Interrupted.

Waverly, O., April 1.—Fighting victously, the Holy Rollers, who for four days and nights have been holding an unbroken service in an unsuccessful effort to restore sight to Annie Kellison, were ejected from the township house in Morgantown by the township trustees, who became fearful lest the terrible strain of prolonged worship would overcome their reason.

The trustees were refused admission and told that God had ordered the Holy Rollers to hold on until a cure had been wrought. Securing assistance and armed with clubs, the trustees beat down the doors and were met by the frenzied men and women, a terrific struggle ensuing until they were overcome and forced from the building.

Several are said to have become unbalanced by the intense excitement and they are under constant surveillance.

Great crowds from adjoining counties have arrived to witness their remarkable ceremonies. Undaunted by present failure, Elders Morris and McKibban announce, since all churches and public houses are now closed to them, that as soon as the weather will permit an open air meeting will be held, when they will attempt to heal all the blind, halt and dumb who apply.

LARGE HOLE APPEARS.

New York City Gas Trust's Accounts Fail to Balance.

New York, April 1.—Apparent discrepancies of $11,000,000 in the amount of profits and of $13,000,000 in the total amount of investments in the statements submitted by the Consolidation Gas company, formed the salient features of the second day of the inquiry by the legislature committee conducting the gas investigation in this city.

On behalf of the company it was said that another statement would be presented showing what disposition had been made of the $11,000,000 profits. On account of the absence of R A. Carter, secretary of the company, on account of sickness, no explanation was received of the difference of the $13,000,000 beyond the statement of counsel that it was attributable to the difference between the price of properties acquired and their present actual value.

Dread Enemy Attacks General Rosser.

Charlottesville, Va., April 1.—General Thomas Rosser was stricken with apoplexy and his condition is critical.

Stale Bread Bag.

A traveler says that a curious weakness of grownup Moors is the love of eating newly baked bread. The caid of Azemmoor, in Morocco, discovered that old bread was thrown away as waste. To waste food is a serious offense in the eyes of a Moslem. The caid of Azemmoor therefore issued a bylaw prohibiting the baking of bread upon one day in each week. The citizens, he declared, must eat up the bread already baked, and he fixed Wednesday as the "bitalab," or holiday.

DUN'S WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Period of Hesitation Over—Merchants Who Made Preparations for Big Business Are Realizing Handsomely. First Quarter's Returns Excellent.

New York, April 1.—Dun's weekly review of trade says this morning: Trade returns are increasingly satisfactory, continued high temperature accelerating distribution. The closing days of March brought greater confidence and results for the first quarter of 1905 proved even more favorable than anticipated. Expectations of manufacturers who made extensive preparations are being realized. Reports from the south indicate that the period of hesitation is about over and agricultural sections are stimulated by prospects of a good season. Freight congestion has followed the heavy shipment of spring merchandise and railway earnings in three weeks of March were 8.2 per cent larger than in 1904. Official returns make the cotton crop fully a third larger than the one preceding and still prices are far from demoralized. With the subsidence of floods the mills have resumed, water traffic is heavy and the percentage of unemployed is seasonably reduced. Buyers are arriving in large numbers at the leading jobbing centers. There is less ice in the lakes than at this time last year but another week is needed to restore navigation.

A steady demand is noted in all departments of the iron and steel industry, orders constantly coming forward and most plants are assured of activity for many months while some mills decline contracts for shipment any time before 1906.

A better feeling is noted in the primary market for cotton goods. More inquiries are received from China but there is little prospect that desired deliveries can be made, as some lines are under order up to next February.

HAD HYDE CORNERED.

His Letter Directing Equitable to Pay for Dinner Produced.

New York, April 1.—That James Hazen Hyde paid the cost of his famous dinner to Jules Cambon, the French ambassador, out of the funds of the Equitable Life Assurance society is a fact. That Mr. Hyde has made complete or partial restitution of this sum, approximately $30,000, it is alleged, is also a fact.

It has developed that Frank H. Platt, counsel for the Crimmins committee of policy holders, possessed, when he went to Albany on Tuesday to attend the hearing of charges before the state superintendent of insurance, a copy of a letter written by Mr. Hyde to the Equitable Life directing that the cost of the dinner be charged to the company. It was this letter which caused Mr. Hyde's counsel to beg an adjournment.

The Tribune says this morning: "The presidency of the Equitable Life Assurance society has been provisionally offered to John D. Crimmins, it is said on good authority, by representatives of the Hyde party. According to the story, James H. Hyde will offer to retire as vice president if James W. Alexander will agree to relinquish the presidency in favor of Mr. Crimmins."

JAIL FOR INGA HANSON.

Former Salvation Army Girl Punished for Perjury.

Chicago, April 1.—Inga Hanson, the former Salvation Army girl, convicted of perjury, has been denied a new trial and will go to the penitentiary for an indeterminate sentence.

The perjury was committed in an attempt by the prisoner to obtain $50,000 damages from the Chicago City railway for alleged injuries in a street car accident by which Miss Hanson claimed to have been rendered deaf, dumb, blind and unable to walk. She claimed to have been suddenly cured through a miracle as a result of prayer at a religious revival.

Leaped 100 Feet to Death.

St. Paul, April 1.—While the Wabasha street bridge was crowded with pedestrians and vehicles an unknown man vaulted over the railing and disappeared in the Mississippi river, 100 feet below. The act was so sudden that onlookers were dazed and no attempt at rescue was made, the man drowning in full view of the crowd.

Vanderbilt Chased by Police.

WRITS APPLIED FOR.

J. Morgan Smith and Wife to Resist Extradition.

Cincinnati, April 1.—That J. Morgan Smith and his wife would resist extradition to New York, where they have been indicted for conspiracy with Nan Patterson, Mrs. Smith's sister, was made evident when Attorney Shay secured two writs of habeas corpus from Judge Smith, returnable Monday, one writ for J. Morgan Smith and the other for his wife, Julia Patterson Smith.

It is alleged in the writs that the prisoners are held without warrant; that no charge has been placed against them, and that there is no authority in law for detention of either husband or wife. When arrested the couple were held simply "on suspicion," but when it was thought a writ of habeas corpus would be sought Chief of Detectives Crawford filed an affidavit charging them with being fugitives from justice.

Detective Quinn of New York, who arrested Nan Patterson last May after the shooting of Caesar Young, and who is well acquainted with the Smiths, called at the central police station and formally identified the Smiths as the persons named in the New York indictments. The writs are returnable before Judge Spiegel in the common pleas court Monday.

BULLETS STRIKE HOME.

Bride's Brother Shoots Her Husband, and Afterwards Himself.

Malone, N. Y., Summer Hazen, a bridegroom of a week, and John Hall, his wife's brother, are dead as the result of objections to Miss Hall's marriage. When Hall learned that Hazen and his sister were to be married he warned Hazen that he would resort to violence if necessary to prevent the ceremony.

Nothing came of the threat and the newly married couple, believing that the trouble had been forgotten, started for a visit to the bride's brother's home. They had hardly crossed the threshold before Hall seized a rifle and sent a bullet into his brother-in-law's body.

Hall then left the house and was supposed to have run away. Shortly after, however, he broke a pane of glass in the bed room window where Hazen was lying, and shoving his rifle barrel through the window, shot Hazen again. The coroner and an officer were summoned and upon their arrival in the evening the coroner stumbled over the body of Hall in the driveway near the barn with his head blown nearly off, he having committed suicide.

CORPSE IS IDENTIFIED.

Sisters-in-Law Recognize Remains of Murdered Woman.

Kingston, N. Y., April 1.—The body of the murdered woman found in Wallkill creek at Gardiner has been identified by Mrs. Julia Cramer and Miss Mary Eade as that of Mrs. Minnie Eade, wife of their brother, William Eade of Walden.

Mrs. Eade left her home on Jan. 5 to go to The Bridges, a hotel in Walden overlooking the Wallkill creek. As the murder appeared to have been committed in Orange county, although the body was found in Ulster, the further investigation of the case will rest with the Orange officials.

MULFORD IS FREE.

Court Nolles All the Indictments Against Him.

Columbus, April 1.—For the first time in more than three years, John M. Mulford, former national secretary of the American Insurance Union, is free from all formal charges of crime. The court of common pleas has nolled all indictments standing against him; three for forgery, two for embezzlement and one for perjury.

The action was taken by Judge E. B. Dillon on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney. Mr. Mulford was arrested November 9, 1901, indicted on six charges of embezzlement, forgery and perjury in January, 1902. He was reindicted on the same charges in September, 1902, and in January, 1903, was placed on trial before Judge Eli P. Evans. The illness of Judge Evans necessitated the postponement of the trial, and numerous interruptions and delays finally induced the state to give up hope of convicting the acused.

All the charges grew out of Mulford's conduct as secretary of the American Insurance Union.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Massillon, And Good Reason For it.

Would'nt any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
She finds relief and cure?
No reason why any Massillon reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Mary C. Kilway, of 49 Duncan street, Massillon, says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills for I know from actual experience their value in all cases of backache and kidney trouble. I had severe pain in my back across my loins and through the kidneys, the result of doing extra work about the house or from a cold settling in my kidneys. I was often so bad that I could not sit in any one position for any length of time, and the least exertion tired me. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills I commenced using them They helped me at once and a short course of the treatment entirely relieved me. My husband also used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them most satisfactory."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Women Who Force Themselves to Work

Women Who Suffer From All Manner of Uterine and Ovarian Troubles, Weak, Nervous, Bloodless, Melancholy Women Find a Positive Cure in

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

Every day sees an army of worn out women dragging themselves to work or forcing themselves to attend to their household duties—women whose trouble lies in an overstrain or over-exertion at some time in the past—women who stay in this condition and think themselves beyond repair, because they know nothing of the wonderful power of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to give them back their health, strength and vitality, by their ability to re-supply the lost nerve energy, to build up the system, to manufacture good, rich blood, and give increased weight by making the digestion strong and vigorous.

Mrs. Ella Smith, of No. 48 Miller St., Newark, N. Y., writes:

"Last summer I was so weak I staggered when I walked. I was very nervous, easily excited, could not rest nights, blood thin, appetite poor, and hands trembly—I was in a low state of health About this time I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and though everything else had failed, these pills put me on my feet in good health, and that quickly, too. It was not long before I was eating and sleeping well—the nervousness and trembling gone—the blood rich and my strength back. They are a grand medicine and I feel vigorous and strong in every way." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co, Buffalo, N Y. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, M. JIU JITSU FOR CADETS.

Joint Board of Army and Navy Recommends It.

Washington, April 1.—The war department has made public the report of the joint board of army and navy officers convened by special orders of February 8 to take into consideration the physical training of cadets at the military academy and of midshipmen at the naval academy. The report is endorsed by President Roosevelt, who directs that the recommendations be carried out, and also that a further report on progress be submitted to him sixty days hence. Secretary Taft approves the recommendation and Acting Secretary Darling approves the recommendations except as to the suggestion that the sword of the army be made a part of the equipment of every ship in the navy for use of officers and landing parties.

The report is very long. Its most important feature is the recommendation that the Japanese art of jiu jitsu be incorporated in the course with boxing and wrestling. The board reports that it is not of great value as a means of physical development, but the knowledge of the system would inspire the individual with a degree of self-confidence. The board recommends that physical training be extended over the four years' course at each academy instead of one year as at present.

RUSSELL SAGE TO RETIRE.

Has Amassed a Fortune of One Hundred Million Dollars.

New York, March 31.—Russell Sage has at last decided to quit the battle of business life. Upon the verge of the grave, he will now take a holiday and the "Street" will know him no more.

The old family house is being put in readiness at Lawrence, on the Long Island shore, for it has been determined by Mrs Sage to take her husband there in a few days to remain through the summer in the hope of fighting off "the last call" for a few years at least. Mr. Sage is now in his eighty-ninth year. He has amassed more than a hundred millions. It is peculiar of the man that he has always thought in hundreds, and he says that he will live to be one hundred.

SPARKLING CUT GLASS.

Its Original Luster Retained by the Sawdust Bath—Carafe Cleaning.

What bride to be does not exclaim with delight and admiration over the presents that begin to come from relatives and friends as the great day draws near, and especially when the opened box reveals a piece of cut glass? In her mind's eye she sees it in the dining room of the new home which is to be all her own, adorning the buffet and the table, sparkling among the silver which has so generously been given her or standing on beautifully embroidered doilies upon the dark polished table.

The careful housekeeper has her silver cleaned once a week or once in two weeks, and why should the cut glass be neglected as much as it ordinarily is? True, as it is used it necessarily has to be washed, but that is an entirely different matter from washing it by itself to give it back its original luster and sparkle. It is then very apt to go into the dish pan with a lot of other things and be hastily washed and dried with an ordinary dish towel, or maybe it is on the top of the heap of dirty dishes and receives the benefit of a whole kettleful of boiling water. Then you will probably be informed by Mary that "it just fell apart by itself." She "did not even have it" in her hands.

In washing your glass do not have the water too warm. Some people think that the water should be almost at the boiling point, but that is a mistake. The water should be only lukewarm, with a little ammonia in it and only enough soap to make a slight suds. A toothbrush will aid in reaching into the deep cuts. After the glass has been washed it should be rinsed in water of the same temperature, with a little of ammonia in it, and then dried in a box of sawdust. Do not try to dry it with a towel. You will be sure to get lint into the cutting, and besides that, it will not sparkle as brilliantly.

Have a box of sawdust large enough so that you can pack several pieces in at once. Leave the glass in the dust for a few moments, and then take it out and brush off the particles that adhere to it and see how the light will make rainbows sparkle on its surface.

If there are carafes and bottles that are difficult to wash inside, put small bits of white potatoes into them and shake violently.—Table Talk.

The Curtailment of the Sleeve.

The service of the sleevelet, or deep, long undercuff, increases every day in favor and possibility, the curtailing of the sleeve proper just below the elbow evoking innumerable devices and dainty maneuverings of mousseline and lace.

Bouillonnes of mousseline de soie or net, worked into lines of beading, as our sketch shows, are among a host of successful sleevelets, while the companion notion seems to fit the needs of dressy cloth gowns.

In Sheep's Clothing.

"There is one thing certain"—the girl in the blue gown paused impressively—"I shall never under any circumstances send any one a souvenir postal card."

"They are very pretty sometimes," the girl with the black hat suggested.

"They seemed very pretty and convenient when they first came into vogue, but they have ceased to be anything but a delusion and a snare." The girl in blue spoke feelingly. "A few years ago when one's friends went away they wrote letters—interesting, newsy letters—several pages long. Now they buy a postal card with a picture of some old abbey or castle or skyscraper or bridge on it and write 'Affectionately, Laura,' or 'Do write soon, Jack,' and seem to think they have done their duty. I may have to resort to wireless telegraphy, but I shall never tantalize a friend of mine with one of those wolves in sheep's clothing, a souvenir postal."

Ripples of Fashion.

No halfway prevails in fans. They are either very small or extremely large.

Untrimmed skirts are in highest favor for girls' frocks, but a few tucks are permissible.

Silk elastic girdles are much worn and are especially smart with the outside blouse jacket.

Elbow sleeves in all garments with undersleeves and long gloves for the street is the present word.

The turban toque sharply pointed in front and the quaint three cornered hats are foremost in early styles.

Peau de soie, taffeta, grosgrain silk, panne, embroidered crape, brocaded satin or silk may be used for the fashionable girdle.

The latest fitted hand bag is of dolphin leather in a delicate reseda shade, lined with silk and supplied with purse, cardcase and smelling salts—the fashionable woman's full requirement.
